Have you ever thought about how long it takes to build a simple building, or do you know it takes at least a year to build a simple building? What about its environmental issues? How much materials and minerals will it take to complete a building? Consider this example:

Beautiful buildings that are decorated with precious stones and after another 20-30 years those buildings are considered to be extinct mountains and mines are empty of stones and stones that are crushed and destroyed, and there are no mountains and no facades ...

Iranconex Company (Canaan Iranian Conex) after registration in 2006 simultaneously entered the country's production field and with valuable experience in this field and integrated management of IMS and QMS quality control system decided to be diligent in conservation of natural resources and time problems and relocation of a structure.

By performing various projects in the production of engineering, guard, residential and vial structures and all kinds of prefabricated orders, small and large offices and large public and private companies, Foothills has been ready to provide products and services to your dear loved ones. We respect your support of national production and we will provide you with quality product thanks to it.

By implementing various projects in the production of engineering, guard, accommodation, villas and all kinds of prefabricated orders, small and large offices and large public companies, refineries, has announced its readiness to provide products and services to your dear loved ones. We respect your support for national production and for that we provide you with quality product.

We are proud to accompany you from the past in various oil, construction, construction, construction and villa projects until the last step.

Letter of Faith

Faith in God and the three principles of kindness, honesty and kindness towards fellow human beings.

We act according to our conscience, fairness and justice.

In order to have a dynamic and up-to-date collection and to better respond to our customers we strive.

Providing the best services for customers as the main goal and finally appreciating them as the main pillars of the company's growth and excellence.

We do things according to the time and promise we make so that we can be proud of God's mercy and our dear customers.

We try to master the work and do it properly, even without supervising the superintendent because we believe that falling short of things ultimately comes back to us.

We pay attention to our discipline, service, and work because we believe that order acts like ministers and officials. Correct and fast doing the assigned tasks as part of their duty and with you to the precious time in the shortest possible time we will satisfy the customer's demands according to the rules.
